
Obituary - Keith T J Hewitt

Keith was born in Northwich in 1931 and educated at St John Dean's School. He married Barbara in 1953 and they had four children and subsequently five grandchildren. He first trained in motor mechanics, then became a driving instructor before learning a new craft and becoming a baker and confectioner.

He opened his own business in Northwich and after 15 years, retired in 1980, moved to Knutsford and was received into the Church in 1985. All his life his love was of fast cars and there were few makes with which he was not familiar.

He had a long history of kidney trouble and had to go on three sessions a week of dialysis soon after retirement. In spite of this, for some years until severe hypertension began to take its toll, he not only led an active life but an active Catenian life, serving as Marshall and Press Correspondent and was a most active visitor to Other Circles.

His death from two massive heart attacks in the February of 2003 was just a few months short of his and Barbara's golden wedding anniversary
